

➤ E-Commerce and Technology

Technology plays an increasingly important role in all businesses. Kohnen & Patton has developed the knowledge and skills to deal with this important aspect of its clients' businesses. With experience ranging from advising existing non-technical clients regarding the acquisition of technology to representing software and web developers, hardware resellers and high technology startups, the firm deals with an extensive array of legal issues in this area.

Our e-commerce and technology services include:

- Formation of technology startups;
- Financing arrangements with venture capitalists, lenders, and investors;
- Agreements for the acquisition, sale, and transfer of technology and technical services;
- Employment and consulting agreements for technical personnel;
- Security and confidentiality programs for high technology companies;
- Joint ventures and strategic alliances;
- Software and technology license and maintenance agreements;
- Development agreements;
- Distribution agreements;
- OEM/VAR agreements;
- Application service provider agreements;
- E-commerce agreements; and
- Web site agreements, terms of use, and privacy policies.